

Where is our starry night?

February 7, 2017

6:30PM - 8:00PM

Herrick District Library

300 South River Ave., Holland, MI

Join us as we explore what the phrase "light pollution" means, how this topic is connected to sustainability, and how it is impacting our ability to see the stars.

We will hear from local "Dark Sky" advocates about the environmental, social, and economical benefits and ways Holland can put practices into motion through community lighting projects and incentive programs to preserve our starry night.
